“ We send our love and blessings to you, Alan, Martha and Carolyn and your families. Your Mom lived a life of service to all she came in contact with. I wish we could have spent more time together through the years but life sends in all directions. I have fond memories of visiting ya'll at Blooming Grove. Much love, Helen “ Fourteen months ago, I became chaplain at Autumn Leaves. Ms. McCormick was the first resident I met and was amazed at her sharpness of mind and gracious spirit.

“ *Martha and Mrs. McCormick family:
I wish to extend my sympathy to you at this time. The times I saw Mrs. McCormick during our "growing-up years" in B.G. she always left the impression with me of being a genteel and loving person. God bless you all. -Gwen.*

“Alyne McCormick is busy right this minute playing the organ in a grand hall in Heaven. For decades she played at the First Methodist Church in Blooming Grove and now the tones from the organ are truly celestial. She is also petitioning the Lord for a great season for the Rangers as she shakes the hands of the great baseball players who beat her to Heaven. What a delightful person!

“ Alyne McCormick is the mother of one of my college roommates, Carolyn McCormick Beene. I have always been impressed with this tiny woman whose life before 100 years of age centered around her family in Bloomimg Grove TX. Attending a birthday party for her, I found out that she had played the organ at First Methodist Church for every decade for her first eighty years or somesuch. It is to the same church that I wish to make a memorial in her honor. She is remarkable and now she is in Heaven.
