

Annie Williams

February 23, 1931 - January 17, 2025

Annie (Anna Margareta Maria Wagner) was born on Feb 23, 1931, in Troppau (now Opava) Czechoslovakia. She was the youngest of two children and had an older brother, Richard who is also buried at Dresden Cemetery with Annie's mother Antonia.

Her father was a musician and played many instruments. He also owned an Inn and a Welding business both of which he ran together with Annie's mother.

After the war the family moved to Austria where Annie became a seamstress and then studied fashion design in Vienna. While living in Wels, Austria she met the love of her life, a Texas cowboy named Lewis Williams, nick named Willie and affectionately named Schatzie by Annie.

After Willie returned to the US after his assignment, Annie followed him and the two were immediately married in Washington DC. The couple then moved to Willie's home state of Texas. Annie began working in the fashion business and her spunk and charismatic personality immediately contributed to her career success and she became a fashion

designer for the Mr Fine label.

Annie's career allowed her to travel to New York, LA, Japan, China and Italy.
She and Willie also traveled back to Austria and visited places they went to while they dated.

Annie and Willie had a home and land in Red Oak and then built their dream home in Blooming Grove, where they raised cattle and had a peach orchard. Annie loved dogs and there was always a family pet by her side.

Annie's brother and his wife had two girls her nieces Helga and Lydia. Lydia is here with us today. She was close to many wonderful people and families and the Gibbs and Glass families were there always there for Annie.

Annie had a generous nature and was always there for family and friends.
She was always that fun and charming woman in every room she was in and had an unforgettable laugh.
