“ Me-maw had two step daughters, Tish Barnes and Tanya Hildebrand. She had spent time with her grandchildren, Justin Wheaton, who has a daughter, and Brady and Trinity MacKenzie. Brady and Trinity remember her "chicken bacon", running threw sprinklers, riding the lawn mower, bedtime math, and playing with the dogs. I remember my summers in Texas and Florida with her and Dad as a child. She was a friend to my mom when we were in Texas. She cared for and loved me and my sister and I loved and miss her. My Dad loved her and she was his world until he passed. It saddens me that we were not mentioned as I were her stepdaughters and she was loved by us.

“ I worked with Barbara recently and found her to be a strong believer in our lord. She honored him each day with grace and testimony. Thank you lord for introducing her to me. She had a positive influence on my life . She loved her two little dogs sassy and buddy and called her neighbors her family. She was always saying how appreciative she was for all of their continued help they gave her. Lord thank you for sending your angels in our times of need. Barbara will be missed but I am so thankful that she is finally with the one she loved and worshipped the most. Until we meet again ... love christy
