“ It seems every time I ate at a Martin gathering, MaMaw and the other women would cook, and PaPaw washed all the dishes. My MaMaw would always make sure she'd have cantelope waiting for me. She was a fine woman who always stood by her husband's side. MaMaw died the night before Valentines' Day. One of my dear friends said, "She was on time to see her sweetie on Valentines' Day.

Although our hearts will miss her, her heart will forever be with God, her husband and grandchildren.

“ Grandma,

I know grandpa, you, mom and dad are up in heaven celebrating a great 93 years you had. I love you and already miss you. Now you rest in peace, no pain, no worries, just pure love and health eternally.

“ Loved ones are precious

*I know this for a fact
And when you lose one
It's like an attack*

*I've lost some loved ones
To many different things
I hate losing loved ones
But it's a bell that has to ring*

*Loved ones are special
I have many I should know
But it just seems
I couldn't let them go*

*You try so hard
To hold on
But in one small second
Loved ones are gone*

*Sometimes at night
I pray for lost loved ones
Even though they won't come back
This poem is for them the loved ones*
