“ Every time I seen Charles he would say, “You better get over here and give me a hug!” Then he’d want to take a picture together! I miss seeing him, talking to him, and listening to music with him. He was always a gentleman and always helping with something. He was such a good friend and always made me smile. I’m so thankful for all the times and memories we had together. It’s not the same without him and his presence is truly missed! Love you Charles!
