“ He was kind of our neighbor for many years. He owned property near ours. We used to see him every day, driving his pickup down the gravel road and checking on his livestock. Sometimes we'd stop along the road and talk for a few minutes when we were on our way to town. We had no idea that Mr. Putman had passed, and was wondering why we haven't seen him for awhile. The last time we saw him, he was with two other gentlemen who came over to talk about the cemetery on our property. We're sure going to miss that familiar sight of Mr. Putman driving down the county gravel road checking on his cows and stopping by on the road for a friendly visit. Our condolences to the family.

Clark was one of a kind. He always had funny stories to tell. Even if you had heard him tell them before, they were still funny the second and third time, because of the way Clark could tell them. His stories were always true stories about the past. Clark loved music and he and Ronnie spent many hours playing Bob Wills' music. We all had a lot of fun out at the old church on Sat. night dancing to Clark's music. Lots of good memories made with Clark. A wonderful friend, that we will always remember. God bless you, Clark. We love you, Ron and Debye

Clark always had a smile on his face. Loved this man dearly. Every Saturday night Clark, daddy (Ralph), Chester and others played music at someone's house. Clark loved playing and if anyone ever watched him, his feet always moved whether he was standing or sitting while playing. He will be dearly missed.

What a wonderful video! I really enjoyed. My husband used to play with him too for his dances. Everyone loved Clark!

I remember when growing up Uncle Clark was always telling stories, or picking on you in a fun way. My mother Oleta, would take us to listen to Uncle Clark and many of my cousins play at dances. He would play fiddle, mandolin or guitar equally well. Now that part of our family is all together and all of them are missed so very much. Joyce Drain Cook

“ My uncle Clark was a patriot and a proud Texan. He loved his family, his land, his cows and his God. He never met a stranger and always had the funniest stories to share. I know the happiest times he had were when he was in the pasture either plowing or caring for his cows. He, sadly, outlived all of his siblings. But, I know in my heart, he is in Heaven telling jokes and telling "tall tales" with his sisters and my beloved, daddy, Wendell. Goodbye, Uncle Clark! I will always love you. Patrice Putman Flint
