“ I already shared a memory but I'll gladly share another. I love an miss you so much an I really need my big brother right about now. I know it's been a little over a yr now since you been gone an I'm just empty on the inside. I lost our parents an that was bad enough but I always thought I'd have you here with me. Shortly after they passed you had that horrible accident an my life was an is changed for the rest of my life. My heart is broken. I don't think I will ever be the same. I'm living in our house now it's hard walking by your room. I will never forget our country cruising an pilfering out in the shed while you worked. Watch over me like you always have I still need you. Until we see each other in heaven I'll be missing you an i love you so very much. Your baby sister, Brenda
