"Alas, poor world, what treasure hast thou lost! What face remains alive that's worth the viewing? Whose tongue is music now? What canst thou boast Of things long since, or any thing ensuing? The flowers are sweet, their colors fresh and fair, But true sweet beauty lived and died with her." Shakespeare -- Venus and Adonis

Arrangements by Griffin-Roughton Funeral Home.

“ I love you, Auntie. Thanks for taking care of me that day that my mama had her turn at the nursing home, so I could go see Bozo the Clown. Thanks for those pretty green dresses you made me.

*Love,
Joan*
