

Frances Faye Watts

June 27, 1926 - March 17, 2025

Faye Meador Watts was born June 27, 1926, in Frost Texas. Her mother, Estelle King married Clarence Napolian Meador August 20, 1911. They remained in Frost where Faye graduated high school in 1944. She went on to marry the love of her life, J.L. Watts November 10, 1945. The couple briefly moved to Hurst, Texas where she played softball for Delta Airlines. After moving back to Frost, Faye worked for the world-famous Collins Street Bakery but ultimately returned home to serve alongside J. L. working the 90 acers of farmland they grew to love.

Faye, who was a natural in the kitchen, was known for her southern hospitality and homemade cooking. Scalloped potatoes, meatloaf, pecan pies, peach cobbler, cookies, and homemade ice cream, a must for the Texas summer heat, were family favorites. She often laughed about the number of cheeseburgers she cooked for Jason and his friends.

Faye remained in their family home thru 2008 staying engaged in the community until 2021 when she moved to Truewood Assisted Living in Keller, Texas to be closer to family. In 2024, Faye relocated to the Lodge in Saginaw, Texas where she enjoyed the rest of her days.

Faye is preceded in death by her mother and father, sister Jimmy Dickson, brother John L. Meador, husband J. L. Watts, and her son, Mike Watts.

Surviving family members include her grandson, Jason and wife Crystal Watts of Ft Worth. Three great grandchildren Lance Luce of McKinney, Jenna Watts and Emeri Callaway of Ft Worth, Texas, and many nieces and nephews that she adored.

A heartfelt thank you to Thersa Martin of Frost Texas. Faye loved you like a daughter.

Special thanks to The Lodge in Saginaw, and Solris Hospice for the love and care each gave to our dearest loved one, Faye.
