“ Henry H. Wooten

“ Henry was one of my instructors at Navarro College in the early 1980's. I will never forget him. He was one of the most intelligent men I ever met, there was no problem he could not solve, no task he could not complete. I know he will love the infinite knowledge he will gain on his new journey.

I just learned yesterday of Henry's passing and it saddens me that I did not get to show my respects.

I met Henry in 2017 when someone gave me his number as a master clock repairman. I feel he and I bonded as friends instantly. He was an amazing interesting person. He made me feel special by telling me he could teach me all his knowledge of clock repair. He said he could see an interest in the art, and I had mechanical skills, and that may be true, but his skill I feel I could never had reached.

It was my honor to have known him. I visited him several times at his home in his garage after he got all my clocks running like a fine tuned machine.

I found we also had other same interest of old cars. I have always owned one.

I loved that twinkle in his eye and his awesome smile he always had when we discussed clocks and cars. I will miss him. I wish I had known him for many years, but am thankful for the couple we did have as friends.

Sincerely, Tom Hammond

“ Henry was always a joy to be around and was always full of interesting stories. I really enjoyed our “quarterly visits” and hearing about his growing family. His positive attitude and outlook should be something we all strive for.

“ Henry made this world a better place, it was always so peaceful when you were around him. He repaired many clocks for me that still tick to this day. I remember one clock that had been in my Grandfather's house when it burned and my father had put it away. After my Dad passed away I found that old clock and was going to throw it in the trash but for some reason no had thrown it away, it was just set aside. One day I took that old clock to Henry to see if he thought it was salvageable, he said to leave it with him and he would see what he could do. He called weeks later and told me to come pick it up, I didn't know if he had repaired it or maybe it was to bad to be repaired. Well Henry had done his magic to that old clock and it was beautiful, I could not believe it was the same old charred clock. I gave that clock to my sister that Christmas and it still lives on her mantel to this day. Thank you Lord for letting me meet this kind man on my journey.

“ To the entire Henry H. Wooten (Mr. Wooten to me), I would like to try and put a smile on your faces as your memory slips back to the early '80s ('80-'85) when I was attending Navarro Jr. College and the Church of Christ with the Payne's and you guys.

This chance meeting back in late August or early September of '80 was the Lord working in his mysterious ways...I didn't want to be there at that particular time...but, since I had little choice I did roll with it and lo and behold the Lord brought into my life some of the most memorable people in my young adult life...my first time being out on my own with no parental guidance...WoW!! I thought I was about to have the time of my life...and though I actually did, it really was not anything like I'd imagined it would be. Yes'm, there were parties and activities that I'll not embellish here...but, it was people like Mr. Wooten and Mrs. Wooten and their son, Randy who helped keep me well grounded and fundamentally sound in the word and the church. I so deeply appreciate that y'all took me in and pretty much treated me as one of your own...the handful of meals I enjoyed at y'all table were amazing...the time and fellowship we all enjoyed together at the Bible Chair with Tommy and the rest of the gang...Mrs. Wooten and Mrs. Payne always providing great meals to us restless and hungry students.

I know our lives took very separate paths after the mid-'80s, but your inspiration and love never ever was forgotten. I'm so very pleased that I was blessed to have re-connected with you all once again back in early '18. I greatly appreciated the Christmas Card I received from Mr. & Mrs. Wooten this past Christmas...it will be cherished for the years to come.

Mr. Wooten was a very easy man for me to talk with...we really never had any real deep conversations, but his words of encouragement and his accepting smile were always so very good for my heart...and the memories and impressions he left upon me still are!!

Something that really was special to me was his love of quality music...remember, I was young and really not very wise to the higher quality rock groups...I tended to be stuck in my rebellious Heavy Metal stage with Kiss, Judas Priest, Van Halen & Scorpions...but, I discovered the Moody Blues because of Mr. Wooten and Randy...and then there was his admiration and appreciation of Jethro Tull/Ian Anderson...I can't really explain those memories in terms that everyone else will understand, but this older gentleman (in my eyes as an 18 year old) liking and actually knowing something of Jethro Tull and The Moody Blues was a game changer for me personally and I've never forgotten...most everytime I'm listening to either of those groups or Supertramp, memories of the Wooten family come rushing through my mind...and those are such wonderful memories!!

Thanx for taking me in and loving me Wooten's!!

*Much Love!!

Free Hugs!!*
