“ We are so sorry to hear Herbert lost the battle with cancer. Though we haven't seen him for years, because he was active on Facebook, we could keep up with him. We'll miss that connection with this very special man. He was indeed a patriot, very polite in his comments, and first and foremost, a beautiful Christian. He had enduring faith that carried him through life. He loved Doris and loved kids.....reminding me of my father who also loved kids. His and Doris' Christian influence on the children that passed through their home has given to the community in the most effective way.....by molding character into so many children we all get the benefit. Sorry we couldn't attend the funeral and hug you, Doris, but our prayers will continue for you as you adjust to the emptiness he leaves you with. May God fill that with His comfort and peace and provide all you need in the days ahead. We love you and rejoice that we will see Herbert in glory and that he now sits with the Master of Creation, asking questions, thanking Him for His care, and singing praises with the angels and other saints that are with him. Prayers for all the family.

With love and compassion, your old friends, Dale and Sharon Joy Bell

Cousin Herbs and I located each other as we were doing the family genealogy. His father and my mother were siblings of the Joseph William Hoffman, Jr. family. My Mom, Maggie Katherine married and settled in Amarillo, Texas. Herbs and I were night owls and shared stories hoping that our shared memories might enable us to find our family roots. The only person that we were unable to locate information on was our Great Grandmother August Lott/Loth Hoffman. Thanks Doris, for putting up with the late night chats. Cuz Herbs will be missed.

“ I met Herbert in 1977 while a rookie at the Corsicana Fire Department. The firefighter family is unique. The comradery is real and deep and lifelong bonds are forged. We are all truly brothers from different mothers. Through all vicissitudes, it quickly became apparent to me one thing was consistently steadfast; Herbert’s great compassion. There are ghosts who follow firefighters to their grave. They are borne from the psychological trauma we experience from responding to calls where there are negative outcomes for human tragedy. Herbert had his ghosts too. He is now free of them. Rest in eternal peace, my brother.

“ My late husband and I met Herbert and Doris at Westside Baptist Church. Herb and Jerry were in the Men's Sunday School class together and became great friends. Naturally, Doris and I became friends as well. We became a foursome on many occasions, especially going out to eat together.

Herbert loved to pray and was known for his long prayers but he also had a short little prayer that we would ask him to pray before each meal. His prayer was, "Thank you for anything and everything and forgive me for anything and everything".

When my Jerry passed away, Herb was there for me. He comforted me with his words and prayers. Jerry loved him like a brother and so did I.

He is singing with the angels now, no vocal problems, no trouble climbing the steps to the choir, and singing with that same pure voice. I will never forget the times we had together. I look forward to seeing you again and singing with you.

“ I met Herbert when we started going to Westside. I had known Doris for a long time because her brother was married to my aunt. Herb was a happy man even though he was already having health problems. He and my husband were ordained as deacons together.

Herbert always wanted to sing a solo for the church but his voice gave him trouble because of his cancer and the treatments he received. One night he finally got to sing his solo... "Jesus Loves Me". A song usually sung by children, he sang it with a child's heart, pure and with unquestionable faith. It was beautiful. He was as sure of his home after death as anyone can be and in the end, he knew that he would be with Jesus soon. Until we meet again, enjoy Heaven my friend.
