“ I am sending my deepest sympathies to Steve, Tandi and the Muncy Family, friends, and the customers Jake served. My fondest memory concerning Jake includes his smile, and his invitation to come and meet his wife and precious family in the chapel at Griffin-Roughton Funeral Home last year.

The first time I met Jake he shared his faith and trust in Jesus while he was a student at MISD. I was privileged to share in his education, and his graduation celebration at GRACE Community. He made my heart smile each time he sent a shout of greeting as our paths crossed after graduation. We laughed, cried, and prayed together.

I look forward to seeing him again when there will be no more goodbyes.

“ Steve and Tandi,
Prayers and thoughts during the coming days for you and Family.
No words can take away your pain. Psalm 23:4
The Word of Promise® Audio Bible Complete

Psalms 23:2

2 He makes me to lie down in green pastures; He leads me beside the still waters.

Psalms 23:4

4 Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; For You are with me; Your rod and Your staff, they comfort me.

The key "through" you will make it through this valley and there is a light of hope at the end of the valley knowing that there was a relationship with Jesus. That is where the healing begins. Prayers now and in the coming days, weeks, and months. Keep your eyes on Christ for that inner strength.

“ I'm so sorry I can't be there, I don't want to say goodbye...so I'll see you later my friend. We have so many memories that I will forever hold onto. I'm sorry for our fall out, and sorry for not being there this past year. It's true you really don't know what you have till it's gone. You are one AMAZING friend Jacob Muncy. U.S. That we're lucky to call you a friend were truly blessed. I thank God for bringing you into my life and I won't question why he called you home. I love you and will be praying for peace on your wife, kids, parents, and family. We will miss you dearly, but this isn't forever, so I'll see you soon. I love you.

“ Steve, Tandi and kids "Look to the hills for which come your peace and help, for your peace comes from the Lord". I realize there is no explanation for why things like this happen but we know that God is sovereign and doesn't make mistakes. I really grew to know and love Jakey. When we see each other he would always greet me with a hug and that million dollar smile. Steve and Tandi there is no words to express my sincere sympathy to your family but know that we are here for you all. Just ask.

“ My heart goes out to Steve, Tandi, and Jake's siblings. You are in my prayers and thoughts. We prayed for him before he was born and God gave Steve and Tandi such a beautiful, active, baby boy. He spent many hours in his toddler days and preschool at our house as my daughter baby sat him, then even when she couldn't I said bring him on over. He was so precious. He learned to swim in our backyard and scared me to death when he just ran up to the pool, jumped in and took off. He would swim for hours. Getting out to water my flowers then get back in. I loved his company. He was so energetic. As an adult, he was so handsome and such a sweet young man. My memories of Jake are topped off with the remembrance of his huge smile. Steve and Tandi, Don and I love you and will continue to lift you up in the difficulty days ahead.

“ I want you to know my heart is hurting so much for your family. I know you don't know me but I am Tyler's grandmother, and as a Mother who has lost a child of the same age, I can understand the pain you are going through. I know it does not make sense that it has happened, it never will. I will not say to you "it will get better with each day", because I know the reality. I will tell you that your love for Jake, will carry you through this tragedy and your love for the Lord will make you strong enough to survive, even when you don't want to. As I sit here and say these things to you, my tears are still falling for my son, Joey, but just know my heart is with you all and I will pray for your strength in this situation.

“ I remember the first day Jake walked into my Sunday School class at the age of 3. He looked me straight in the eyes for a good while and then came that beautiful smile. We bonded right away. He was always a delight and absolutely sparkled when he talked to you. As a child, I loved his sweetness, his spontaneity, his curiosity about all things new. He did not sit quietly and I loved that the most. I was so glad I got to see him at Napoli's on Sunday. The maturity, the joy on his face when he spoke about his family was crystal clear. But then, Jake was crystal clear. He was never pretentious or phony, he was always honest and true. Steve and Tandy, I loved him dearly as I do all your children. I am so sorry for your loss. “ Oh my gosh, where to start. My first memories of Jake were at little dribblers, you could pick him out for sure he was the one with all the wrist bands, arm bands, knee bands, head bands lol. He had all the moves, fast with his feet, could dribble thru anything and around anyone. And as he grew it became his smile that you would remember you couldn't help but smile back. He just had the kind of smile that made you happy. And although he wasn't on the court anymore, he was the eagles biggest fan. So many times while Nic and Mikey played you knew Jake was in the house. As he grew into a man and had a family it was his pride. Not only for his family, but his pride in himself and how far he had come. He would tell you his daughter changed his life, it made him want to be a better person, it made him realize how important the small things were. It also made him appreciate his parents. He loved his mom and dad and his brother and sisters. The fast paced kid with all the bands that you couldn't slow down for anything. Became a man that slowed down every time he saw you to say hi, to hug you, to check on your family. I can honestly say, that Jake found himself when he had Allison. And that is the greatest gift he could have left behind. Leaving this world to go home and knowing that you are complete, what a feeling that must be. My heart and my prayers are with all the Muncys. Steve and Tandy our hearts are heavy for you, and know that you are thought about ever minute of every day. May God give you strength, but know this you raised a fine young man. Thinking of you today, tomorrow and for all the days ahead.
