I will always remember your funny stories and great laughs at Amerisource Bergen in Houston. Heaven has a great man and a Super Trucker now. I'm still in shock and backing up to Amerisource will never be the same. Rest in Peace brother, heaven has an unlimited supply of great coffee!

“ Because of who you are God, we pause to tell you Thank You. For it is in times like these that we realize your power and your love. Understanding that even though we are powerless against thee, we call to you for comfort. In this hour, we need you. We are in reflection of James Irwin, that man that you gave to us on loan, as a co-worker and friend. Thank you for those many many laughs and crazy sayings that had us laughing out loud long after the trucks were loaded. We never knew what you would say @ 6am, but we expected more of the same anytime that we saw that brown truck (Thanks Jim). God knows Best! Is our words of comfort in this hour and on this day and in the future. Amen

To the family, God is, ever to wise to make any mistakes. There is no perfect time for this kind of experience. Our hearts go out to you. Know this, we are praying for you.

“ Anyone who knew Jim, knew that he had a wonderful and loving wife at home, he also had a work wife, that was me, Around the office at work everyone knew Jim as Darlene's husband and announced to the office he was on the phone. Jim 2-3 times a day, but never at lunch because that's when Sue would be calling him to check in. Jim was my driver I could depend on for anything from directions to a laugh when I was down. About 6 months ago Jim said he was getting to old for this crap and he was hanging up his Superman Cape and was going to take it easy until he could retire. I know how badly I miss him, and wish we could talk just one more time. Rest in peace my work husband, my thoughts and prayers are with your family now and forever.
