“ Stoney, I know that this is hard for you and the kids but just remember that you will see her again. She loved you and your kids with all of her heart. When I think about the time we spent in Corsicana with you guys, I think of those good ole taters that she used to make (I still try to make them but they aren't the same). We had some fun then. She's with mama and daddy now and they're watching & waiting on us so we have to keep pressing on, knowing that we'll see them again someday. I love you guys.

“ Dear Stoney:
There are no words that will take away the pain that you have right now. I encourage you to remember that she is in God's hands now.
We will one day see our loved ones as we know and remember them, but without any pain or suffering. May God cradle you and your family in His arms until that wonderful day.
