“ I am so very sorry! You fought hard! You moved to Texas when I was little, but one of my greatest memories growing up was coming to Texas to see you and aunt Lorraine. Very fun family trip and glad I got to share it with you. Xoxoxo Carina

My cousin and her family, so very sorry for the loss of Jeanette. We became fb friends and one day I had hoped to visit her in Texas. Seeing family photos of her family and seeing the remarkable likeness to, with our grandfather looks. May Jeanette rest easy and may her angel family be there for her. Sending our condolences: pray:

“ Kevin, oh how she loved you. And was so very proud of you. The boys and Alexis and the grandbabies were blessed to have both of you. I wish you comfort in the days to come. What a presence to lose. Glad to have known Jeanette and worked with her all these years.

“ My wife, my love, my best friend. You left us way too soon. I can't imagine how to function without you. I just keep remembering your words to me telling me to Be Strong. I'll continue to do as you wish. Our life together couldn't of been any better. It's clear we were meant for each other. 30 years and it still felt like the honeymoon. Two amazing sons, two beautiful grandchildren and the best daughter in law God could of gifted to this family. Alexis, we adore you. We always made time to laugh, you were the most loving, forgiving, energetic person I knew. I thanked God and you everyday for marrying me. Although you thought you thought YOU were the lucky one. I knew better. I'll do my best without you here but you shaped me to who I am today, so you'll always be in me. Until I hold you again my bride, I still dream of you when I'm awake. Love always Husband

My condolences 🙏😞. She was amazing. We had a good time at the drags. Great neighbor, and friends. She will be missed but never forgotten. Whatever you and the family need please let Rick and I know. We will always be here for you and your family. Thanks for letting me visit with y'all a lil tonight.

As I sit here trying to write, I'm at such a loss of words. All I think about is this wasn't supposed to of happened. You fought hard, and Kevin never left your side. The two of you had been on a beautiful journey and have a beautiful family to prove it. Two beautiful boys to be proud of and blessed by two beautiful grandsons. You loved all of your family with all of your heart, and loved to get visits from the family. You were a fun person, kind hearted, generous, and problem solver. You loved God and know the meaning of "till we meet again "which gives me comfort also. I pray that Kevin and family can stay strong for her sake.
