“ I have just now found out about Jennifer's passing. I'm so heart broken, she was my best friend when I lived in Corsicana. She always had my back and was always so fun to be around. I lived with Jennifer and her family for almost 2 yrs. I moved just as she started to date Chris. She was so in Love with him from the first date. He was kind of mysterious to hers friends because he was older. I spoke with Jennifer a few yrs after I moved but lost touch over the yrs. Chris I'm so sorry and will pray for you and your family for continued love support and guidance. She was a gem and I will never forget her sweet smile and funny ways. I have always held her close to my ❤️

“ Chris, we don't even really know where to begin with what our hearts are feeling. When Kevin and I heard that Jen had passed all we could do was stand there in silence and the tears rolled down our cheeks. You and Kevin have been friends for a very long time, with the craziness in the world today we tend to get so caught up in each of our own lives and before you know it months have passed us by, but just know that no matter how long, or how much time goes by we will always be here for you. Our home is always a place that you are welcome in. Jen was a super person with a beautiful personality and she will be missed dearly. We are praying for you Chris, and even though it doesn't seem fair and the questions of "WHY" will be on your mind, just know that God has a plan and he will see you through the hard times. We love ya Chris!
Jen: Fly with the ANGELS, your life has only just begun. This is not goodbye for we will see you again one day!

“ All the laughs, jokes, jingles we sang. Wow what memories to have. The green bug she drove and the many times we had to push start it in high heels....now that was sights to be seen. There were a few tears of lost of love, family, but we always came back around to those jokes and laughed some more. Proms, Dances games....we were there late, but there. So honored to have her for those few years before life took us in different directions. Me moving and her staying to be with her one and only true love CHRIS. Although we lost contact over the years she will always be a kind loving friend that I was honored and blessed to have in my heart. She was a wonderful person inside and out.

May the lord walk beside you in the days to come, for you will need his strength to endure the days ahead.....soar high Jennifer with that beautiful soul.
