“ Remembering Joe makes everyone smile. He was a happy person that always had something very sweet and kind to say. Always there when you needed him, and definitely had some funny story to share, even if he found it in a small newspaper ad. He always kept me up-to-date on anything he heard from our alma mater Texas Tech, and was an avid fan.

Every morning he would be the first at work even though he would drive over an hour to work every day, and would begin the day with talk of sports, a joke, or the latest thing he found crawling around the house. He will truly be missed at work.

“ Joe never had a bad thing to say about anybody - he had several. Joe, you stood by me when others scattered and I will never forget that - nor will I forget all the dirty jokes and elephant impressions and WING songs and trips down your very odd memory lane. You were a great neighbor who made me laugh, especially when I wasn't supposed too, and I'll never forget that. You were a bright spot in a very dark place. Goodbye, Joe. You will always be missed.

“ You're one of a kind Joe! All your great stories of family, friends even the crazy things that happened in your house when the snakes attacked and assorted other animals started making their home there. I wish i could list them all. I'm singing Wing in my head right now but it is competing with Hampsterdance that you swore would be in my head forever. Now it is. You had a serious side too..you loved your friends and you were always loyal. You had friends spread out all over the country and you would do anything for them. Generous of spirit, Joyous in your nature, Mischievous and ALIVE. You were more alive than many people and young of heart. I still wish you were here to make me go "ewww!". You loved to tease! I will miss your friendship but will never forget you!

“ Getting to know Joe was such a joy. He initially appeared shy and reserved, but if you scratched the surface just a little, he was incredibly funny and mischievous! His quiet humor made it a greater joy when you finally discovered it! He will daily be missed by those who shared his workplace. My deepest condolences to his family.

“ It was great getting to know Joe. He helped me to open up when I first started at Brookshire's. We grew to be real good friends especially since we both were from small towns. He had a wonderful sense of humor and really showed me how to look at life. He will really be missed.

“ I worked with Joe at the Ennis Daily News in Ennis, TX. for a couple of years. I enjoyed working with him very much. He was one of the most funniest people I know. He always knew how to put a smile on my face even if I didn't feel like smiling. He always went above and beyond the duty of a co-worker. Whenever I needed anything, I knew I could count on Joe. My daughter Kathryn was one of his biggest fans. He was so giving and truley a good person, he will be missed greatly.

“ Although I did not work with Joe directly I truly enjoyed having him be a part of our "team" here. He was always most pleasant to be around and often put a smile on my face.

He will be missed, not just for his talents, but for his ability to make your day better by his actions and attitudes.

“ Even though it has been many years since the last time I remember seeing Joe at a Trinidad Homecoming, I will always remember him as one of the first to welcome me into third grade and continue on through our senior year as a bright, funny and loyal friend. I know he will be missed by his family, co-workers and friends who were close to him. Thank you, Kay Stanfield, for your thoughtfulness to let me know about the loss of one of our classmates. My memory is full of the good times we all had together growing up in Trinidad.

“ What heavy hearts the Class of '70 has today from hearing of the loss of our classmate and friend Joe. Joe and I played together as children before we ever started school together in Mrs. Hart's 1st grade class, we remained friends thru the years and graduated high school. I have great memories of Joe. Some of my favorite are full of laughter, he could turn your "bluest" day bright, always a warm smile for everyone. Laughing so hard we cried over something he said or drew and passed to you in class, or some wise remark he made. Now I shed tears of sadness for our loss. I, along with the Class of '70 will miss Joe Bryson with his perfect left handed penmanship, his quick laugh and his warm smile. Rest in peace Joe, may God hold you in His arms. My thoughts and prayers are with you Barry on the loss of your brother, I know how deep that hurt goes.
