“ Our hearts and prayers go out to Josh's family at this time. Our son, Matt, was a friend of Josh's and he came over to stay on weekends at times. He and Matt also played tennis together from Collins through CHS. Matt lives here in Mt. Pleasant with us now and he is deeply saddened by Josh's passing. He's hoping he can make it on Wednesday. Josh will be missed by all that knew him. We loved you Josh.

“ I had the priviledge to work with our youth department when Josh was attending regularly. I will never forget his smile or gently spirit. He and Phillip were definately a dynamic duo always able to make us laugh. I can not express completely my sadness at this loss. I can not fathom the loss you, as his family, must be experiencing. The amazing thing is that we do not have to grieve without hope. I was able to witness Josh profess his faith publicly and know that one day I will see him again. My comforting thought in this time of sorrow is that when Josh opened his eyes he saw the face of his Saviour and was welcomed by a warm embrace. I know that may seem a small thing to you right now but for me it offers peace and reassurance. Again, I am so sorry for your loss and know that this void will never be filled. As an older sister and mother of two my heart is breaking and at times the pain seems unbearable. Yet I know that God is in control and He will see us through. You are all in my thoughts and prayers.

“ There are not any words to say that can take away the pain you are feeling but I wanted you to know Josh was very special I got to see him doing things for God not because he had to but because he wanted too. I have pictures of him when the youth group did the Hal Scott relay for life. josh walked all night with the other boys from the youth group to raise money for cancer research. They won the trophy for most miles walked. They were so proud of that. I think we had the most fun trying to ski in colorado. I have a picture of the road trip he isnt smiling but then who could when there was still so much road between them and the snow. Josh was a wonderful boy and i know he didnt miss a youth night when i was at first methodist. I have no doubts josh believed in God and knew he was loved. Knowing your son was a honor and he will be greatly missed. May the Lord be with you during this time, Lisa

Jessica Donahue & Otis Brown Jr. - January 20, 2007 at 12:00 AM

“ Though the miles and the years seem to make the distance grow, you are all in my heart and in my thoughts more often than I have expressed.

It is so heartwarming to me to see the outpouring of tributes given and the love behind each and everyone. Obviously Josh was well liked & loved by many. In reading all the wonderful things people have contributed about Josh, I am proud to hear how gentle and caring he was and that he had a great ability to make people smile and laugh. That is a testimony to the love that surrounded him through friends and family.

My last memory of him is from about 3 or 4 years ago. I was in town and stopped by the house to visit briefly. Josh came home from work while I was there & he was as pleasant & warm as could be although it had been a few years between the times I saw him. I was touched when he hugged me good bye & said he loved me. I thought WOW, this from a teenager who barely knows me. But we were family and maybe that was what counted in his heart.

I can not begin to imagine the pain my family there is going through, my Uncle Cecil, Aunt Pat, cousins Lorie, Cecil, Jr., & Erin and their children, not to mention Pat's family, Josh's friends and all that were in his life in one way or another.

To each of you, I give my love and sorrow and prayers. I have asked my church group to be in prayer for each of you as well. We know the processing of the emotions you will experience will be different for each of you, I encourage you to lean on God for strength and he will not forsake you. Do as Josh asked, stay strong.

I am sorry I can not be there to offer support in person. My mother will be there on my behalf and her own. Please know you all remain in my heart and in my prayers.

May you find comfort in God and those he sets in your path in this time of great sadness.

My love to all.

“ The first time I seen Josh he was Hunter's age. He was walking into H&W with his dad to visit his mom. All I knew about Josh at the time was that he was one cute little boy. I have come to know Josh pretty well the past 5 years by working with him. He grew into a wonderful young man with a big heart and so full of life. He never had one boring moment in his life. He would always say I love life and he lived it to the fullest. He had so much energy, Josh alway's shared with us all the fun and crazy things he and his friends would do. Family and friends were everything to Josh. If you failed to speak to Josh he would greet you by name and say hello or goodmorning just so you would speak to him. He knew everyone's heart and just the right things to say to cheer you up or bring you out of your shell. Josh brought out the best in everyone. He was always happy, you couldnt be around Josh and not have a smile on your face or just burst out laughing. I never knew someone who could use the word DUDE so many times in one sentence. He loved music, everyday at work out of the blue he would shout out lyrics to his favorite songs. You could hear him all over the warehouse. He brought great happiness to this place and we all love him. Our hearts and prayers go out to his family and friends, it is such a tremendous loss and he will be greatly missed. “ Dear Pat, Cecil and all the family --

Pat, I was so shocked to hear the news of Josh when I called you to check on your mother, Marge, to see how she was doing after her knee surgery. I just spoke with her and we shared our tears for all of your loss. As you know, your mom and I have known each other for many many years - before Josh was ever born. I feel like I shared your growing up and knew the excitement of her having grandchildren. Marge always kept me up to date on what everyone was doing. I am sorry that I never met Josh in person, but I feel like I knew him and all of you - at least in my heart. I know that he was a wonderful person and will be missed greatly. “ Pat & Erin-

We are so terribly sorry for your loss. Josh was such a great person and could always make people laugh. One of the most handsome young boys. Erin- I know you and your brother were close. I have just lost a brother also (Cody Johnson) I know what you're going through. If you guys need anything let me know! Our thoughts and prayers are with you and your family in this time of need. Take care!
