“ People used to call us the three musketeers in high school because you couldn't separate us - Kelly, Michael and I.

We had all lost touch over the years and I truly regret now not finding him sooner.

He will remain in my heart forever.

May peace find the family throughout the remainder of their years and remember him for how incredibly funny he was.

I loved him dearly even though we hadn't spoken in some time.

Nancy, Renee, Melissa and Kids, my deepest heartfelt sympathy goes out to all of you.

“ Nancy and Renee I am so sorry to hear about your loss. You know that Kelly and i were very close at one time then we just lost touch. I thought that one day that i would catch up with him again, but I was to late. My prayers go out to the King family who accepted me as one of there own family. Kelly you are in a better place now, i will see you there one day.

“ It's so sad when someone so young passes from our arms and sight. Too soon, so much life to be lived. Yet God's plan is for us to live forever in his sight and in his presence. I think the most important verse in the Bible is "Jesus Wept" It shows that our physical life had meaning and that Jesus knew grief when someone he loved died. Even though he knew what was to come in his father's house, he cried because of the pain he and his loved one's family was feeling. For Kelly's life meant so much to us, we weep for what we see as a loss, but for Kelly it is an eternal weight of glory beyond all measure.
