“ I have numerous memories of Larry. Several of them stand out in my mind.

Many years ago , Larry and Diana had a huge dog named Dandy. Carol and I were supposedly in charge of watching him outside our Grandmother's house. We assured Larry that we would not let anything happen to her. Well, she ran down the road and was in the ditch by highway 22 before we knew it. We could not catch the dog ourselves, and were forced to let Larry know about what had happened. We were so afraid, because we knew how upset Larry would be. Needless, to say, I don't believe we were given responsibility for Dandy again. Also, Larry got really involved back in 2004 when I was planning my parents' 50th wedding anniversary. Larry was working on the family's geneology at the time, so he had lots of pictures and stories to share. He really seemed excited to be able to help make my parents' anniversary memorable. Larry's ability to use the computer and all that is connected with it to find out information just astounded me.

“ Larry was always fun to run around with, hunting squirrels picking pecans, playing tin can shinny and seeing who could last the longest on the tire swing on the big tree at momma and papas. Lots of good times Will miss seeing him at Jimmy's for the annual 4th of July family affair. He would eat Scott's gumbo, sweat running down his face and ask for more. A great cousin.
