“ Sorry, Greg. What I mean is submitting it to the ofifical I've tested a lot of the competing products at the plug-in directory, but yours is by far the best of them all. I know other users would benefit from this tool. One way to make it inticing at the plug-in directory is by offering a free version: if you made a standard (free) version that did not accept paypal payments for job postings; and a premium version so paypal transactions could happen.
