“ My fb sister, friend, I love you so much, I am so heartbroken. I loved everything about you, your many posts, your fierce love for your family, your kindness and strength. You were so funny and I loved how you would get my sense of humour. We chatted often and each time I left fb 100plus times, you always signed me up, because you understood Anxiety and depression. We shared dreams of meeting each other in our countries and my family here in Australia also adopted you. You were always so kind to my special needs brother and compassionate towards my son. You are so missed and so loved, may you be at peace now my friend. I love you forever Linda xx
