“ Lometa has passed from our presence, and we are saddened but at the same time comforted by the ending of pain and the disabilities which she so bravely bore. She must have had near the top of her list of Rules of Life-"No Whining". Her level of complaining compared to her legitimate basis for complaint set a high standard for the "Suck it up and get back in there" group. It is humbling to work with someone who can smile and spread cheer even in the throes of acute and chronic medical duress. I will miss but not forget this wonderful lady.
