“ Heaven has received another angel. She will be there to watch over each of you. Losing someone at Christmas is extra hard, I lost my Dad at Christmas. Having so many wonderful friends and family that care so much about each of you will help get you through the hard times. The service was so beautiful, I am so proud of you Gena, you did good... I know how hard it was, I spoke at Buck's. I just had a special force to help me make it through it. It's just something we had to do. Eddie did a great job too. You all will remain in our prayers. All our love...

“ Gena,
I just wanted to let you know how special you are to me and how much it hurts my heart for you to have this pain in your life right now. I remember 23 years ago you sitting at my side as I buried my grandmother. That was the hardest day of my life and yet you were there for me. I only wish I could have returned the favor. I loved your mother like she was my own. I cant even imagine the pain your and your family are going through right now. The only words I have to offer is this, know that she is with God and in a much better place, she is at his side watching over us all, and we will all be safer now. I know over the years we have drifted apart, but hope that we can keep in touch. I miss you so much and if you need me im just a phone call away.
Love always,
Kelli~

“ mom,
i miss you so much, theres not a day that goes by that i don't think about you.
however, theres comfort in knowing that you are no longer suffering in any way.
i'm so thankful to god for letting me (and myrla, suz, dad, and linz) get to spend your final days there with you. i believe that you knew we were there even though you were'nt able to respond. we are all so blessed for so many reasons, but especially for having you in our lives. your love, understanding, and humor made us all who we are. i thank you for that. i hope that i will be in heaven with you someday so i can see you again. i love you mom. miss you so much,
