LouAnn was one of finest women I have ever known. She truly loved God & lived the Christian life in every way. She was hard working, loving & giving, not only to her beloved husband of 69 years & all her children & extended family but to everyone with whom she came in contact. Fastidious in her homemaking as well as her person her house & appearance were always immaculate, yet she always had time to give to others. Her delicious coconut cream cakes were baked for many a family when they lost a loved one. Her beautiful smile & infectious laugh made her a joy to be with always. She was just fun. I always knew she was there for me. I could talk with her about anything & she always knew just what to say in every situation. Friends like her are few & I was so deeply blessed to have that friendship. Although my heart aches at losing her, I am so thankful she is no longer suffering in pain. God has welcomed another Angel home. I love my precious friend, LouAnn. She graced & enriched my life beyond measure. Rest in peace, dear one.
