

Dr. Lowell J. Grabau

January 23, 1933 - December 24, 2025

Dr. Lowell J. Gabau, 92, of Richland, Texas passed early Wednesday morning December 24, 2025, at his residence. He was born in Topeka, Kansas on January 23, 1933, to Gerald J. Garbau and Dorothy C. Engelhart Garbau. He served his country in the Korean War in the United States Air Force. Lowell graduated from Ohio State University and Arizona State University receiving his Doctorate in Psychology. He had his own practice in San Antonio providing family and sports psychology and after retiring they moved to Richland. He was a people person who enjoyed adventure like sailing a boat from Oregon to the Caribbean going through the Panama Canal stopping along the way at different ports. He also enjoyed riding his motorcycle and the freedom that gave him. Lowell enjoyed sports, especially the San Antonio Spurs and over the years became associated with several professional athletes.

He is preceded in death by his parents. Sisters Donna and Gretchen. Children Chris and Kevin. Lowell is survived by his wife Peggy. Children Wendy and Daniel. Sister-in-law Jane Hassan and husband Richard. Brother - in - law Jodie Farmer and wife Kris. Nephew Jeffrey Farmer and wife Jennifer and their children Grayson and Maclaine. Nephew Justin Farmer and wife Elissa and their children Emery, Jack and Jerran. Nephew Travis Warner. Niece Casey Grimley and husband Brenden and their child Cayden.

Tribute Wall

“ Lowell was my next-door neighbor, but he felt more like family. From the moment we moved in, he and his wife Peggy welcomed us with open arms. He was a thoughtful neighbor, a loving husband, and had a wonderful sense of humor. We shared many conversations about politics and, most importantly, about God. The last words he ever said to me were, “I love you, Leora,” and I will always cherish that. Lowell truly loved God, and his faith was genuine. He will be deeply and dearly missed.

Leora Leal - December 28, 2025 at 02:16 PM