“ We were shocked to find Ryan's obituary in the paper today. I remember him as a little boy going to Barry School. So sorry he had to die so young. We send our condolences to all the family. Sonny and Martha McSpadden

Ryan probably wouldn't remember me, but I remember him very well. We were not close friends, but I recall that he was always very kind to me. We shared a common characteristic in that we were short in stature while when we were young. We used to make jokes about that. But he is tall in a place now that he is in the very height of Christ. I know he will be missed, but our loss of him is heaven's gain. I pray God's blessings on all who loved and are missing him now.

With prayers for God's consolation for the loved ones, friends, and family,

Carl Arnold
