“ To Mackey’s family,

My heart goes out to you for I realize what a precious loved one you’ve lost. I knew Mackey as a co-worker, a neighbor and a dear friend, but most of all a shining example of a Christian. He was a compassionate, good and honest man who could upon occasion be “determined” (that’s code for stubborn). But, since he was working with someone who was just as “determined,” he pretty much had to listen to other points of view.

His wife, Aida, was the love of his life and he was 100% devoted to his children & grandchildren. Nothing anyone can say or do will make your pain lessen, but my wish for you all is that it will give you a degree of comfort to know that he is celebrating a great reunion with Becky, Maxine and Curtis.

I am a better person because God allowed me to have Mackey Clemons in my life. I know without doubt that he is now with his Lord and Savior. Thank you, Mackey, for everything you did for me, including the occasional “fat pills” (your words, not mine, for doughnuts.) You will be greatly missed.

*With much love,
Sue Anderson.*
