“ I am terribly sorry to hear about Margaret. She was a very nice and sweet lady. She always spoke and never had a bad word to say about anyone. I think everyone was blessed to have had her touch their lives. Reflect often on all of the lovely memories she has left behind.

Sincerely,
Cathy Henderson

“ Margaret was a very kind lady. She was a good neighbor. Margaret loved the outdoors. She could outwork anyone! She loved her family. She was special to me and my family. I'm glad God allowed me to know her and her family!

“ Margaret,

I just wanted to write to you and say I love you and miss you. The family gatherings on Sundays and various other occasions were priceless. We had so much fun as a family hunting, fishing, cooking out, and just being together. Other memories include you and HP always in the pastures working on fences, bailing hay, checking cows, etc. I'm glad to have such a great Angel watching us from above...

“ It has been awhile since I have see you guys but I think of you often. Really everytime I look across the road I wonder how you are and remember all the times of fixing leaks in waterlines to the store in Streetman and running cows up and down the road. I have such fond memories of our times in the pasture just talking. Margret always had a smile and encouraging words for everyhting. I will remmeber her as a Blessing to all that she came in contact with. Love to your family.

“ After Mary's birth, Margaret attended to Fairfield High School to finish and graduate. During that era, it took a lot of courage and determination for her to do that as only single, childess, girls who had never been married attended public school. While her life may not have always been easy, she made the best of her situation. How fortunate she and Homer Paul were to have had each other.
