

Patricia Neiman

September 2, 1961 - January 1, 2021

Patricia “Patti” Ann Neiman, 59, of Corsicana, Texas, passed away on January 1, 2021 after a brief hospital stay. She was born September 2, 1961, in Dallas, Texas, to Barbara and Jesse Jackson.

She was preceded in death by her mother Barbara Reid her father Jesse Jackson, step-mother Carolyn Jackson, and sister Connie Jasper.

She is survived by her fiancé, Randy Roper, children Terry Moore, Jr. (Rhonda) of Ft. Smith, AR, Chris Neiman of Corsicana, TX, Heather Brunton, of Barry, TX, Jennifer Page (James) of Blooming Grove, TX, Cory Roper (Bretleigh) of Dallas, TX. Also surviving are siblings, Cody Jackson (Mia) of Emory, TX, Angie Parmer (Heath) of Emory, TX and Jackie Bevis of Farmersville, TX, 17 grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Patti was a long-time resident of Corsicana, Texas. She had an in-home daycare for over 20 years. She enjoyed cooking, crafting, gardening, visiting garage sales, and was an amazing seamstress. The thing she enjoyed the most was spending time with her family and grandkids.

During the high school years of her son, she created the home where everybody wanted to be. She developed a surrogate mother relationship with many of the high school kids who remained “her kids” to this day. She enjoyed keeping up with them, as many of them had started to create families of their own and they still referred to her as “Miss Patti”!

The visitation will be held at Griffin Roughton Funeral Home on Tuesday, January 5, 2021. It will be open from 12:00 pm to 7:00 pm. The family will receive visitors from 5:00 pm to 7:00 pm.

The celebration of her life will be held at 1:00 pm on Wednesday, January 6, 2021 at Griffin Roughton Funeral Home Chapel with Bro. Floyd Petersen officiating. Pallbearers will be David Richter, Tim Morris, Eric Maler, Keldon Parmer, Jon Bauer, Walt Harper. Honorary pallbearers will be Ross Reamy, Andrew Bonner, Jonah Coley, Kyle Murphy, Adam Brown, AJ Shaw. Burial will follow at Eureka Cemetery.

“ Aunt Patti.. I am struggling with you being gone. I haven't even been able to wrap my head around the whole thing yet. You have loved me unconditionally (when you never had to love me at all!) since I was 5 years old. You have disciplined me when I needed it, let me cry when I needed to cry, listened to me when I needed to talk, and showed me that DNA doesn't mean anything when it comes to family. You truly were a light in everyone's life. Your smile was contagious, and so was your laugh! I will always cherish sitting on Memaw and Papa Jess' porch and us talking and just spending time with each other. The family vacations we all took together. I will cling so tight to all the good times I have had with you for my whole life. You never strayed away from me when things in the family went south. I have always been your "niece, Courtney" ...never just "Courtney." I'm so glad that I was able to be there for you, and that you were able to count on me to get you to the hospital a few years back after your heart surgery. I didn't want to leave you there and I was trying to stay and you kicked me out and told me to get home to my babies! LOL! I think somehow I inherited some of my hard headedness from you! ;) I have seen you go through hell in back with different things in your life, and you never let things defeat you. You will be so missed. And you will always be so loved. You will special to me for my entire life. I love you so much, and miss you already.

“ Patti I am going to miss you immensely . We went thru so many things together. Getting divorced, having babies and getting into some mischief when we were younger. We always had a blast. You were always a sweetheart to everybody. I can't imagine not being able to pick up the phone and call you. I remember the last time we visited you were so excited to show us your house. You had done a beautiful job as with everything you touched. RIP sweet Patti!

“ Patti, what a heart of gold that you shared with everyone! Growing up with you as kids you always put everyone else first. You comforted me through a horrible divorce and your love just made everything better. Your smile & laughter lit up the room wherever you went. I love you my precious cousin. Will see you again one day & we can laugh & dance together.

“Patti, you were a friend for life. The laughter you had will be remembered forever. You are so thoughtful of others and putting yourself last. You always spoke the truth no matter what and a mama bear for your family and any child. And you had a talent for anything you touched, quilting and sewing, crafting for any holiday, and cooking, meeting a stranger and making them your friend. You have been a wonderful leader for others to follow. Your friendship was amazing, and it loyal always, People would never have to second guess what you would say, if you liked someone, it was true friendship, if you didn't like them, they knew it right then.

Patti, I am still shocked of your passing, I just knew you would get better and come home, instead you went to different home, maybe the home of heaven, and know it has to be a better place, but it way to soon.

I was reading our last conversation while you were in ICU. Just know I have been putting you on a prayer list over the last months. I had hundreds praying for you. People you had never met but they were praying for you. I guess God needed you more and you were prepared to be in his arms..

I am glad that God placed you and me back together and you thought of me as a sister in Christ and I thought the same of you. Young lady, you will be remembered forever. I always say "To be remembered is to be loved". You were loved by me and I will always remember you.

Sweet dreams my friend, you can now rest in peace.

*Love,
