“ My Big Daddy will always be someone I look up to and I couldn't be more proud to have such an amazing grandfather. From his hard working spirit and service to our country, to his strong but gentle soul, you don't have to look far to be inspired.

I will always cherish memories of our time together, like fishing with him at the ranch, only to catch a giant turtle that kept stealing our fish, or watching Texas football with him when Texas beat A&M in their final game.

But what I keep coming back to when I think about him was all our time together fixing things on the ranch, and there were always a lot of things that needed fixing. Some of time we were fixing things that I broke (it was just the beginning when I drove the Cadillac into the back of the garage at age 2), and other times I suspect he just saved up things to fix for when I came around. Whatever the reason for the repair, it was during these times that I felt closest to him, and I will never forget these moments or what he taught me.

I love and miss you Big Daddy. Neal Irvin
