“ Mr. Braselton was a blessing to be around and to care for. He always had nice things to say and was very encouraging. His great sense of humor kept us laughing throughout the day. Caring for such a wonderful person reminded me daily, of why I became a nurse. He was always so grateful for even the smallest of things done for him. He was loved by the HORV staff, and will truly be missed by us all.

Mrs. Braselton, thank you so much for allowing us to care for your husband.
