“ To the family:
Please accept my sincere condolences. Tooter was a good man and has been a life long friend. My first memories of him was coming into Bonner's store in the early fifties and visiting with my grandfather, Lewis Bonner. I was very small then, but he always had time to visit and cut up with me. He had the same infectious grin then that he had the last time I saw him. He was mostly a cheerful man throughout the time I have known him and was a pleasure to work with. The world is a smaller, darker place today without him. The world is also a much better place for him having been in it.
