“ i have just read the updated cotnemms & would now like to add that melody is well out of order for not allowing you all to have contact with her son, she needs to realise that he is also your grandson, great grandson & nephew. i can't understand how she can be so cruel, i hope jezza will get on the case, he has a good back up team & often revisits & gives updates on people from previous shows, some guests even come on the show 3 times in the u.k. your family come accross as lovely, warm loving & caring people. i think anyone can see that if they watch the show. melody mentions briefly about drug taking on the show & that she got drunk when she was pregnant. if i was related to the little boy in any way & she wouldn't let me see him then i would seriously consider going for custody or at very least make it clear to melody that she can't do this & get away with it, i think she would lose a custody case. she is obviously sick in the head to keep a grieving family from seeing the only living link to their lost loved one & the little one deserves to know his family. i'm so sorry to hear that she is doing that to you all, good luck & god bless x

“ Uncle Bill you will be missed dearly! Even though you are my Uncle by marriage and then later divorce you will always be near and dear to my heart. I will remember the days sipping iced tea, playing cards around the kitchen table with Granny Sue, laughing and visiting with loved ones. You are a generous, kind and a dearly loved man. I will miss you but I'll see you in heaven!

Love,
Robin
